THE BUZZ...

"This six-piece group with a horn section is like the ultimate party band whether they are playing reggae or another style."
(-Tisch Michel, The Coconut Times, Ocean City, MD)

"Top-notch musicianship is a hallmark of the Bullbuckers."
(-Roger Hillis, The Beachcomber and Delaware News Journal)

"A fusion of soul-searing and foot-stomping music - ska like you've never heard it (unless you were living in the Islands in the '60s), soul and a tinge of hip-hop. It's a Wilmington sound that has roots - and fans - round the globe."
(-The Examiner)

"There's this moment that happens at every (Spark Magazine Annual Party), right as we're introducing the band - the crowd tenses up and waits to see if they're going to stay and listen... I think the Bullbuckers got about five notes into their first song before I heard a guy behind me say, 'Hey, they're really good.' Indeed."
(Matt Sullivan, Editor, Spark Magazine/Wilmington News Journal)

Review of our debut album, "When Push Comes To Shove":
"An excellent album of thumpers and thinkers in tow."
(-Josh Davis, Salisbury Daily Times)

The Bullbuckers rock the party and your backyard. Blending early Ska, Soul, Reggae, Dub, Rock, New Orleans horn arrangements with twinges of funk and hip-hop, the Bullbuckers ain't your mamma's party but you should have seen how she got down

The Bullbuckers have had the opportunity to perform with many of their favorite artists and friends such as The Skatellites, English Beat, Toasters, Slackers, Pietasters, Void Union, Wailers, Midnight, Bonerama, Trombone Shorty, Robert Randolph, Kirk Joseph, Soul Rebels, Cherry Poppin' Daddies, and many more
